JUNIATA COLLEGE
HUNTINGDON, PENNSYLVANIA

Foreword . . .

Within these pages, we of the staff have tried to portray the people, the events, and the activities of another year at Juniata. Our only hope is that the words and pictures contained within these pages will be an adequate source of reminiscence and recollection of a happy and fruitful year of studies, extra-curricular activities, and lasting friendships. The worth of the book to you is the only yardstick of measurement of the success of our endeavor. We sincerely hope you like it.

Administration

DR. CALVERT N. ELLIS

This has been a year of achievement and anticipation. We have seen the best football team in Juniata's history, the dedication of the new dining hall, and the gift of the Swigart Music Hall. Few years have recorded so much visible achievement. We hope that it has been also a year of intellectual and spiritual growth, when professors have opened doors and students have seen visions and made high resolves.

We have been studying our curriculum and planning for the construction of the memorial physical education building. April 17, 1951, will be the 75th anniversary of the founding of Juniata College and we are planning a significant educational conference to celebrate three quarters of a century of service.

May we find in these pages a record of happy hours, thrilling experiences, and broadening associations!

It is always a pleasure to greet those of you who now turn the corner from college to the long avenue of career, home, and usefulness to mankind which stretches far ahead. The turn is one of the full significance of which may not now be apparent, but it is certainly one which the future years will more and more lead you to regard as crucial.

There are many things which we hope you will carry with you, but there are two qualities which above all else seem to encompass the object of our endeavors here at Juniata: high competence and good character. One without the other imperils life. If, as Macaulay has said, nine-tenths of the world's ills are caused by high intelligence and low character, then certainly the other one-tenth is caused by low intelligence and high character.

It is our hope and prayer that Juniata has been good to you and good for you in both these respects.

Acting Dean of Students

Traditions and ideals founded upon Christian principles have been an integral part of Juniata's history. You, the present student body, represent them in a commendable manner in the various campus activities. Your interest and your work in the classroom, in forensics, on the gridiron, and in your religious life are molding a larger and a better college. At the same time you are preparing yourselves to solve problems that lie beyond your present horizon.

Four years of college preparation is only a small part of your life's training, although a most important one. Time, experience, disappointments, and successes are a part of life's graduate school. The degree of success of an individual reveals the difference between being graduated from college and being truly educated in college.

The poet expressed a great truth for all of us in the words:

"Over and over again
No matter which way I turn
I always find in the book of Life
Some lesson I have to learn."

D. RAYMOND SOLLENBERGER

Dean of Women

We of the administrative staff wish the class of 1950 the best of happiness and success in your future. We hope here at Juniata you have learned much in the way of acquiring good mental health, poise, the importance of self respect, and the kind of recreation which will better fit you for your vocation.

These pages will bring back nostalgic memories, we are sure, and even though they do not represent voluminous notebooks, pages of memorized chemical formulas, or biological terms, they do represent an important laboratory of human relations. The development of those qualities which help you to better live graciously and peacefully with your neighbor ought to bring rich rewards to you.

Happy sailing!

Senior Class

The Class of 1950 has grown up a lot in the four years that have passed since as carefree "greenies" we entered Juniata to begin the long trek. Sparked all the way by capable leaders in every field, we are now ready to bow out with the proverbial mixed feelings.

A backward glance at the last year points up memories of members of the class of '50 in all phases of campus life. A reading of the roll might start with Mike Dzvonar and his seven senior teammates leading the Indians to an unforgettable "best in twenty-seven years" football season and Don Norris heading the cast for the arena production of "Berkeley Square." We won't soon forget "Thy Light Is Come," in which forty seniors made the last attempt for the All Class Night cup. The sophisticated Flamingo Club with its scarlet decor was one of the outstanding parties of the year. Rex Hershberger and crew get the plaudits for this.

As we steamed into the second semester, comprehensives and graduation loomed larger than ever. But in all the flurry there was still time for fifteen seniors to participate in the eastern tour of the A Cappella Choir; Sherwood Cordier and Dave Kennedy to take top places in the General Information Contest; Corrie Sollenberger to shoulder the task of student coordinator for "Pirates of Penzance" in which Fran Roddy sang the lead role; Holmes Ulsh to lead his team as top scorer in basketball; Dick Coffman to organize the Juniata World Service Fund drive and lead it over the top. Early spring found seniors in key berths on the track, golf and baseball teams.

RENO RUSS

In Memoriam

It was with deep regret that the classmates and many friends of Reno Russ learned of his untimely death resulting from an automobile accident. Whenever those of us who knew him well meet again in the years to come, he always will be remembered as a conscientious student and a sincere friend.

Nine seniors, all but one of whom were Student Senators, received national recognition in the 1949–50 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Pictured above, they were chosen by a special committee of faculty and administration members on the basis of scholarship, leadership, cooperation in educational and extra-curricular activities, promise of future usefulness and general good citizenship.

A certificate of recognition and the use of the publication's Student Placement Service are among the benefits available to those selected for recognition. According to editor and publisher H. Pettis Randall, the publication is designed to act "as an artificial goal to achievement, as a reminder that time must be used intelligently, as a means of compensation for outstanding effort, and as a standard of measurement of individual ability."

Honor Society

Exactly what its name implies, the Honor Society is a loosely knit honorary group of students with high scholastic averages. Scholastic honors are, however, not the only criterion for membership. The contribution of the student to the life and culture of his College, and his success in balancing studies with social contacts such as extra-curricular activities are also taken into consideration by the board of elections. This board consists of the President of the College, a limited number of faculty members, and all of the members of the society remaining on campus.

Elected last year to membership were Marion Mae Abdill, Janet Baughman, Hazel Laird Brashear, Orville Dore, Warren Groff, Thurman Grossnickle, Betty Ruth Hesse, Gunther Ruff, John Kepford, Luke Shuler, Philip Strittmatter, Richard Coffman, Mary Crouthamel, Robert LeFevre, Kitty Long, Margaret Roop and Ned Walters.

PAULINE BANE, Vice President; HILTON HINES, Treasurer.

Under the able direction of officers Walter Bush, Pauline Bane, Gladys Gehman, and Hilton Hines, the class of '51 added to its renown. In scholarship, athletics, dramatics and other activities the juniors more than held their own.

Gladys Gehman reigned supreme as "Queen for a Day" during the traditional Homecoming Day ceremonies, a day which also saw a gridiron victory over Susquehanna aided by juniors Jerry Africa, Phil Chabody, Coy Hicks and Gene Shaffer.

The juniors' contribution to the annual All Class Night program was a delightful farce entitled "Michael McGee Takes His B.A. Degree," which satirized modern educational philosophy. Other Oller Hall productions were ably supported by '51'ers; witness Vera Compton, the sweet heroine of the Masque's fall production, "Berkeley Square"; Gerry Hartzel, Lloyd Newlin, Laura Hollingshead, and Helen Wentzler adding their talents in that highly successful all-college musical, "Pirates of Penzance."

Not to be outdone scholastically, the juniors boasted three members, Gerry Hartzel, Edwin Marschka, and Vernon Showalter, as members of the Dean's List of Distinguished Students.

Total these and add many more, and you have the Junior Class.

"Those sophomores—they're everywhere!" someone, an upperclassman of course, was heard complaining as he surveyed the signs scattered about front campus advertising the candidates for Senate chairmanships in the 1950 elections. And he wasn't so far wrong at that, for ten of the candidates for the eight Senate offices whose merits were hailed on campus doors and trees were members of the class of '52.

Many another campus activity also welcomed the sophomores into its ranks. Publications recognized the second-year students as workers and leaders as 14 joined the staff of "The Juniatian," and a number proportionately as great contributed to the work involved in publishing "The Alfarata." In addition, four of the top posts on the former publication—assistant editor, sports editor, news editor and copy reader—went to sophomores.

The pulchritude parade included at least four maidens who had once worn the '52 dink, for there were that many among the 11 candidates for Homecoming Queen.

On the theatrical front, the sophs slipped somewhat from the record number of students they placed in Oller Hall productions the year before. The fall drama, "Berkeley Square," included two second-year students among its actors, while approximately 25 percent of the music-makers in the spring comic opera, "Pirates of Penzance," were sophomores. However, many members of the class joined the long list of "unsung heroes" who kept both of these shows running smoothly backstage. Also not to be forgotten was the musical comedy presented during All Class Night by this group.

Taking a leaf from Elsa Maxwell's book, the sophs proved they could go partying with the best of them when they planned and presented The Dance of the Deep. The highlight of this affair was the naming of the Queen of the Deep. And in spite of class loyalty, no one was happier than the sophomores when the faculty judges crowned a freshman, Ronnie Gravlie.

However, neither gay night life nor sports (which also claimed large quantities of sophomore man and woman power) was able to compete successfully for all of the class of '52's brainpower. Three out of 15 on the fall Dean's List were sophomores, and many another soph gave this group a run for their money.

Three score and fourteen years ago our fathers brought forth in the Juniata Valley, Juniata College. Just as these first three freshmen were an indispensable part of the College in 1876, so they were this year.

Having only one thing in common when they entered college in September, that they were freshmen, this group of about 180 soon lost their heterogeneity. They elected Robert Frain as temporary chairman, and the donning of dinks, name tags, and green and yellow socks made them a very distinct group. This unity was forever sealed after the common suffering of sophomore ruling and razzing.

Taking advantage of this new-found unity on Homecoming Day, freshmen scored their first victory in the traditional touch football game. Their vigor in the tug o'war rightfully earned them the victory and the release from initiation paraphernalia.

Class spirit was evident from the first in their own and other class pep rallies. At these were bold displays of effigy burning, posters, and wild yells for '53 in spite of the sophomore menace.

In early December freshmen again shone and made history in their deserved All Class Night victory. The production, "Alfarata's Wigwam," was a student-written comical version of the founding of the College and uncovered some of the many individual talents of '53'ers. Likewise, Holiday for Hearts, the Valentine Dance sponsored by the class, gave evidence of the store of ability and willingness to work. Decorated as a night club, the gym was transformed into a gay scene of sparkling lights, cupids, lacy hearts, and dazzling tinfoil for the occasion.

Through all their trials the freshmen, surprisingly enough, have not acquired a horrible aversion for green and yellow. Their homesick whims are a thing of the past, and in the present the class has buckled down to themes, integration courses and labs. The most spectacular history of the Freshman Class lies in the future, however. They have made a commendable beginning and, viewing evident potentialities, they will go down most favorably in Juniata's history and tradition.

STUDENT SENATE

The fourteenth Juniata College Student Senate took its first important step toward fulfilling its real purpose at Leadership Conference held at Camp Kenasatake the weekend before Freshman Week. Keeping in mind its purpose of serving as an intermediary between students and administration, this group drew up twenty-six resolutions. After these were approved by the faculty and administration, they became a reality in the 1949–1950 school year.

Preceding the beginning of classes, a successful Freshman Week program was held. The group also devised a workable plan for dining-hall table assignments and special programs for the recognition of outstanding athletic teams during the year.

Along with a continuation from last year of the Foreign Student Aid program, a student tutoring system was initiated. The Senate acted to improve facilities for social functions in the gymnasium. They also elected a student manager of the all-college musical, "The Pirates of Penzance," who concentrated on problems concerning the students this year.

Investigations of certain issues and problems were undertaken with the help of The Juniatian. Carrying out the program set up by last year's Senate, a Religious Planning Commission was appointed to promote and broaden the scope of religious activities on campus.

In all it has undertaken, this elected group of officers and chairmen has tried to consider all aspects of campus life. Beneath its black-robed austerity lies a responsible earnestness that makes the Senate an indispensable campus organization.

MEN'S HOUSE COMMITTEE

MEN'S HOUSE COMMITTEE

Maintaining "proper order and quiet . . . in the men's dormitories during study hours" as well as promoting "the maximum amount of cooperation in dormitory life" is the constitutionally defined job of the Senate chairman of the Men's House Committee.

In line with the "proper order and quiet" clause, the chairman and his committee this year drew up a special set of regulations for the Lodge, which, because "of its temporary structure, (requires) extra care in keeping noise to a minimum."

The committee of 16 includes four students living in private homes, a group unrepresented until this year. Their purpose is to "receive and care for student complaints and suggestions, report maintenance needs, and assist in preserving a general atmosphere conducive to study," according to the chairman.

WOMEN'S HOUSE COMMITTEE

With creating and maintaining favorable living and study conditions in the women's dormitories as its chief objective, the Women's House Committee worked industriously toward these ends throughout the year.

In October the members of Women's House Committee were hostesses at a luncheon for the women day students, and they also acted in this capacity for open house on Parent's Day in November. As is traditional, the Committee presented the annual fire-lighting ceremony in the social rooms of Brumbaugh Hall.

This group made the meals in the dining hall more enjoyable by placing decorations on every table. Juniata students are also grateful to them for the afternoon teas they planned and served during examination periods.

RADIO COMMITTEE

As a result of Senate recommendation, the Radio Committee of Juniata College was formed to provide experience for students interested in radio techniques and to acquaint local people with college activities.

A half hour each week was donated to the committee by WHUN, the local station. In this time various clubs and departments presented original plays, commentaries and programs. In an attempt to coordinate the programs with college life, news reports, appeals for drives, prevues and choral contributions were presented. Some outstanding programs have been for Thanksgiving, Easter, Homecoming, Talent Night, and National Education Week.

Another of the radio activities is Turntable Terrace, a program of popular music, arranged twice a week by two volunteer students.

"Integration" was the keynote of the 1950 freshman program as administered by the Senate Chairman of Underclassmen. The plan called for helping the new students to "find themselves" socially and academically.

This aim was achieved by chapel programs and an introduction to the disciplines and ideals of Juniata College through freshman court, the initiation regulations and Freshman Week.

"By keeping these activities on an all-in-fun basis, we integrated the newcomer into the Juniata family," says the chairman. "Now that the program is nearly finished, we can look back and pick out a few things that could stand a little polishing, but on a whole it was successful."

2nd row: P. Link, S. Barnes, R. Reid, Carrie Greene, J. Baker, M. Fry, M. Blaylock, L. Cray, D. Quinell, M. Clemmer, C. Allison, K. Binkley.

An innovation at Masque meetings this year was the presentation of several plays "script-in-hand" so that the 70 members might gain experience in both directing and characterization. The first of these scenes presented "just-for-fun" was a farce, "Out of the Frying Pan."

Early in the fall, the group voted to join the American National Theater and Academy, whose major purpose is to promote growth and stimulate interest in the American theater.

Those becoming Masquers in the fall were Louise Cray, Marvin Blaylock, and Glenn Felix. Receiving the award the previous spring were Vera Compton, Betty Finnegan, Lois Garver, Thurman Grossnickle, Mary Faye Hannum, Frank Perkins, Gene Roddy, Tom Shoemaker, Vernon Showalter and Corena Sollenberger.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The purpose of the I.R.C. program is to familiarize students with problems facing the world. Early in the year the current European scene was reported upon by Dr. Ernest Hall, who had just returned from a summer there. "The Economic Consequences of the Devaluation of the Pound" was the topic discussed by Prof. Willis Wissler at another meeting of the group.

Throughout the year, the club has followed this objective: to awaken and guide the interests of the students in world affairs. We believe that our organization has a direct responsibility in helping the students to become aware of their duties as citizens of what we hope will some day be "One World."

ALPHA BETA GAMMA

Alpha Beta Gamma is an organization for the elementary education majors; its aim is to provide mutual benefits in the enlargement of the teaching outlook and to acquaint the members with current trends in the education field.

Regular meetings were held at which men and women experienced in the teaching profession spoke. Also field trips were taken, to observe actual classroom situations, to one-room schoolhouses, Hollidaysburg, and the nursery school in Huntingdon.

The club entertained the college at a Saturday night party and they also presented a humorous Christmas program on "Juniata on the Air" The year's activities were drawn to a close with the annual spring banquet.

LAMBDA GAMMA

Whether at the hot stove preparing tantalizing dishes or at the machine sewing another "eye-catching" outfit, this group of girls is united by a common bond. They are the home ec students —the builders of tomorrow's homes—and their work is but fun to them.

Club meetings were highlighted by speakers from various branches of the home economics field. A radio program was presented discussing fall and winter fashion trends, and a fashion show featuring the original creations of the members was held in the spring. The group also became members of the National Home Economics Association.

An annual project is the sending of aid to Opal Stech, a teacher in European countries.

French can be fun! That has been the motto of the French Club this year. Aiming at perfecting their spoken French, the members speak only French at the club meetings. During the year they learned French songs, folk dancing and games.

Highlights of this year's schedule were puppet shows, slides concerning France and her people, and special programs. The French Club cooperated with the Spanish Club in presenting the romance-language party, "The Soiree Fiesta," for student enjoyment. French handwork, jewelry and geographical sketches brought some of the beauty of France to the Juniata campus.

SPANISH CLUB

The purpose of the Spanish Club this year was to study the various cultural aspects of the Latin-American and Spanish neighbors of this country. Club objectives were to promote a better understanding of the language, to enlarge the members' knowledge of Latin-American culture and history, and to increase student familiarity with the music, literature and drama of these nations. And all this was combined in an atmosphere of informality.

Featured in the monthly meetings were Spanish games, songs and dances, and foreign language records, as well as a movie and a play, both in Spanish. Further accomplishments of the club were a radio program about Latin-American life and, in conjunction with the French Club, an all-campus entertainment.

4th row: W. Poleck, R. Mohr, W. Murray, D. Kagarise, D. Brinton, W. Korman, M. Nafzinger.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

The Chemistry Club is an organization of students who are majoring in chemistry and associated fields. Its twofold purpose is to provide an opportunity for chemistry students to participate as a body in extra-curricular activities and to spur interest in industrial applications, current problems and developments of science.

Thus, men and methods are observed through lectures, movies and visits to surrounding industrial plants.

The club is a student chapter of the American Chemical Society, since ten of its members are Student Affiliates and ten are Junior Members. It "lets down its hair" once a year for its off-campus spring outing and contributes to the betterment of general campus life through sponsoring radio programs, movies and parties.

SCALPEL AND PROBE

Scalpel and Probe is made up of biology and pre-medical students. It attempts to bring speeches, movies and information concerning medicine and related subjects to those who are interested. During the year, Scalpel and Probe members made several trips to hospitals and clinics. Six members were privileged to witness operations at the Altoona Hospital. The faculty advisers of this organization are Dr. Homer Will and Mr. Alexander Bartha.

The Juniata College Debating Society has successfully completed another year of activities under the guiding assistance of Miss Esther Doyle. This year they studied the national question: "Resolved that the basic non-agricultural industries of the United States should be nationalized."

After extensive and careful preparation, the affirmative and negative teams were ready to take on all comers. A number of nearby college debating teams were tackled early in the year, and the season was climaxed with a commendable performance at the State Debating Tournament at the University of Pittsburgh.

"In looking back over the year, we may say that we are proud of our accomplishments," says the president of the group.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Juniata chapter of the Future Teachers of America is one of the largest organizations on the campus. Dr. Edgar S. Kiracofe and Mrs. Evelyn Davis serve as sponsors of this group. Meetings were held monthly with the purpose of being helpful to the members as well as entertaining.

The programs included several outstanding speakers, movies, student teachers' night, and a banquet in May. Among the speakers were Mr. Torchis from Millersville State Teachers College, Miss Marian Ecker from Waynesboro, who has done exchange teaching in England, and Earl Knorr, State President of the FTA. During the spring semester the future teachers presented a radio program over WHUN.

The FTA is affiliated with the Pennsylvania State Education Association and the National Education Association.

CAMERA CLUB

"This year's Camera Club, as a small but compact group, has enjoyed very active participation in campus activities," according to club president George Layman.

In addition to a series of lectures on the developing and printing of pictures, enlarging procedures, the mechanics of the camera, and the use of the darkroom, club members heard several guest speakers. Lectures on the more advanced aspects of photography were given by one of the members of the organization, a former armed services photographer.

The aims of the club are to provide materials and equipment for developing films, to teach beginners in photography the basic principles of taking and developing pictures, and to provide photos for campus publications.

TYCOON CLUB

The Tycoon Club of Juniata College is composed of students majoring in the Department of Economics and Business Administration. It exists for the purpose of stimulating greater interest in the practical aspects of business.

The club meets twice a month, at which time guest speakers address the members on timely subjects such as merchandising, banking, the relations of law and business, employer-employee relationships, and other typical problems pertinent to the increasingly important relationships between business and the rest of society.

These meetings also provide opportunity for the kind of free and informal group discussions not always possible in classroom presentation.

CAMERA CLUB

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

The Social Committee of the Senate is directly responsible for all Saturday night functions on campus. In an effort to make variety the keynote, the committee asked clubs and other organizations on campus to work with them in planning and producing bigger and better programs.

Under the chairmanship of Betty May this committee succeeded in widening the scope of social activities at Juniata College. It has stimulated initiative and originality, feeling they cannot be over-emphasized, as well as individial talents in such activities as a Sadie Hawkins Party, a Hallowe'en Party, a Shamrock Party, and a Gypsy Carnival. It has also planned freshman mixers, moonlight hikes and hayrides.

CHAPEL CHOIR

The Juniata College Chapel Choir is an on-campus choral organization. Under the direction of Prof. Johnson the Chapel Choir appears at all the regular chapel services, leading the hymn singing and rendering choral responses and seasonal anthems.

Special activities include community union church services in Oller Hall, a radio program, and participation in the Huntingdon Music and Civic Club programs.

Its major performance of the year is the annual Christmas Vesper Service in the form of a choral-dramatic pageant. This has the able assistance of other faculty members and students of the college, thus serving both musical and integrating purposes.

CHEERLEADERS

Full of pep, vim, and vigor, the "cheering dozen" lead the student body in backing up our teams. This year, with the new outfits and acrobatics the squad is more active than ever before. Bill Wright and Betty Savine, co-captains, bring on the cheers with a vigorous shout.

On the nights before football games, the student body is led in cheers at a pep rally and then with the band enjoy a bonfire at either Round Top or the practice field. Our cheerleaders with Miss Jane McCormick, squad adviser, keep the school spirit at a peak throughout all our sports seasons.

OUTING CLUB

The Juniata College Outing Club, a new club on campus this year, was formed through the efforts of its president, David Kennedy. Its purpose is to provide an outdoor program for members by which sportsmanship, fellowship and physical fitness are promoted.

Membership is open to faculty and scholastically qualified students who have acquired ten points through club activities, and who are willing to "buckle down" to a pack of bedding or to take turns in "rustling the grub."

The club's activities consist mainly of week-end outings as the name implies. The trip in the coldest weather was to McCorkle's cabin at Spruce Creek, which threatened to become a wood chopping party and the longest trip was one to Canada by the male sector of the club.

J CLUB

The Varsity J Club is one of the oldest active organizations on campus, having made its start in 1926. The year 1950 finds it grown from a little upstart club to "the spokesman of the active sportsmen on the Juniata gridiron, hardwood court and baseball diamond."

Encouragement of good sportsmanship in athletics as well as the promotion of a feeling of fellowship and friendliness among its members and others students are the major aims of the organization.

W. A. A.

Employing its motto, "a girl for every sport and a sport for every girl," the Women's Athletic Association did much to encourage athletics among Juniata co-eds.

Autumn brought hockey sticks into action with spirited contests between the classes in Sherwood Forest, and the most important of these, the annual Homecoming Day game, was won by a 3 to 0 victory over Freshmen.

Upperclassmen in the W.A.A. also participated in playdays held at Bucknell, Pennsylvania State and Lycoming. Here they had a chance to meet other W.A.A. members from many schools. On a strictly non-competitive basis they participated in such recreation as badminton, bowling, hockey, basketball, and swimming.

The Juniatian, Juniata College's weekly student publication, carries all the news of activities concerning the college. Complete coverage of sports, news, social activities and features, is well taken care of by the student editor, appointed by the senate and his publications staff, chosen by himself.

For the second semester the Juniatian has won the first honor rating from the Associated Collegiate Press Critical Service. Out of the 500 to 999 student enrollment class, the Juniatian was one of 22 papers selected for this rating. The papers were judged on news coverage, style, typography, makeup, feature material, and editing.

Throughout the year the Juniatian has tried to bring before the student body various issues which they judged to be of importance; development of school facilities and policies has been their aim. In several cases these articles have brought definite results, and they have always been of interest to the students.

INDIAN

Under the sponsorship of the Varsity J Club, "The Indian" was published for each home football game this year. Edited by Bob Smith, the only non-member of the club on the staff, the program was devoted to giving Juniata football fans a pre-game summary of the Indians' progress as they moved triumphantly on toward the greatest season in their history.

Joe Beyer, club vice president, handled finances and Jack Rothenberger was in charge of circulation. Ads were sold by Bill Murray and Bud Kreider.

The "Alfarata" represents a tangible reminder of a year crammed with study, fun, and friendship. Its primary purpose is to serve those of us who are entering the cold "outside" world as a source of recollections and reminiscences of the people, the plays, the sports, the activities, and the organizations which were an intimate part of our lives for one short but treasured year.

SCOUT

Before entering Juniata, each freshman receives the Scout, a handbook designed to acquaint the student with the customs and problems of college life. This small, blue book, presented by the Senate, is made available to all incoming freshmen, new students and faculty. Within its cover are found many things of interest—freshmen regulations, traditions, songs and yells, campus activities and the constitution of the Senate.

Editing the Scout this year was Corena Sollenberger with the assistance of William Wright as advertising and business manager. Expenses for this publication are covered by a budget from the college and by advertisements from local merchants.

ORCHESTRA

Varied and informal these adjectives describe the Juniata College Symphony Orchestra composed of 39 members.

Variety is achieved through the programs which consider the performer's ability as well as the audience's taste in selection of modern, light, and classical music.

Orchestra rehearsals are informal and Prof. Brammer, the instructor, is always open to the many questions. Each Tuesday night Oller Hall resounds with efforts of students and faculty to make notes into music.

When the last rehearsal is over, the members have applied an almost professional gloss to their music and move through performances as one instrument.

A spring and fall concert, accompaniment to "Sweethearts" and to May Day festivities comprised their activities last fall. In 1950 they accompanied "The Pirates of Penzance" and presented a concert.

BAND

The Juniata College 32 piece, marching Band, under the direction of Mr. Brammer, performs at numerous school functions throughout the year. It supplies the spirit of collegiate enthusiasm at pep rallies, football games and basketball games. Neatly clad in their blue and gold uniforms, they take to the field with an eye-catching precision. The Band also added its voice to the festivities of May Day and other special occasions on the college calendar. In the two years under Mr. Brammer's direction, the Band has developed a wide repertoire of musical compositions, stunts and formations.

Religious Life

Since its inception Juniata College has recognized, as one of the primary purposes of its existence, its responsibility and opportunity to instill within the young men and women who enter an awareness of the basic traditions and ideals of the Christian Church and a basis for mature spiritual and moral growth. The success of this aim has perhaps never been more apparent than in the past year.

The four phases of the Student Christian Association—World Relatedness, Personal and Campus Affairs, Christian Heritage, and Social Responsibility—have been emphasized this year by the Religious Planning Commission. This committee headed by John Keener, Senate Chairman of Religious Affairs, and the Rev. Wayne Glick, faculty advisor, is organized with a chairman for each of the quadrants. During the year these four phases of Christianity have been individually emphasized in lectures and discussions led by outstanding speakers. Peter Mayer, chairman of the World Relatedness quadrant, arranged for Luther Harshbarger to lecture on the subject "Communism vs. Christianity" after which seminar groups met in faculty homes for discussion on the subject.

Bill Wright, chairman of the Personal and Campus Affairs emphasis, introduced Ira Reid, professor of sociology at Haverford College, who led an interesting discussion on "The Courtship-Marriage Decision."

Spiritual Life Week emphasized Christian Heritage, the third quadrant, headed by Paul Shaffer. Dr. Ansley C. Moore spoke in Chapel and conducted seminars during the week. The seminars were a series of discussions on the Bible, God, Christ, and Life.

Another weekend with discussion groups meeting in faculty homes was used for emphasizing the social responsibility of a Christian. The chairman for this fourth quadrant was Howard Long.

The Religious Planning Commission is intended, not only to bring to the students these four phases of Christian living, but also to correlate the various religious clubs for a more efficient religious program on Juniata's Campus. Under this system the following groups are now in existence: Student Volunteers, a mission study group; Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, a Bible-study organization; Ministerium, a club for ministerial students and faculty; the Dunkard Club, a Brethren Student fellowship; The President's Bible Class, a Sunday morning group which studies the International Sunday School Lesson; and the Young Women's Christian Association, a social work organization for girls.

Many varied projects have been undertaken by these groups throughout the past year. The Y.W.C.A. held its annual Christmas Party for children of the community with students acting as parents for the evening. A college quartet and deputation team, under the auspices of the Volunteer Mission group gave programs in over 10 churches during the spring months. The majority of these programs were full evening services consisting of music and a speaker.

The yearly Juniata World Service Fund drive succeeded in going over its goal of $1950 through the cooperation of students, faculty, friends and organizations on campus.

Clean recreation and wholesome attitudes are desirable factors of all campus functions. In the next year an even stronger organization of religious activities is to be stressed. It is hoped that this will help to bring about the complete cooperation of all groups on campus affiliated with the religious emphasis. This overall religious stress of the importance of religion in the lives of Juniata's students is expressed in the majorit y of the student activities on campus.

I. V C. F.

A part of a national student Christian movement, the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship on the Juniata campus presents an opportunity for Bible study, personal witnessing, daily group devotions, and prayer, and the maintenance of a sound testimony for Christ.

The weekly Bible study is held on Thursday evenings, being conducted by students and guest speakers. Paul Carlson, staff member representing this area, held individual conferences with students in the early Fall and led group discussions for practical help.

This year's activities included a number of informal parties, a dinner at Prof. Silas Dubbel's, combined meetings with the Penn State IVCF and a Spring conference with that university for the purpose of sharing ideas and problems.

MINISTERIUM

The purpose of this organization at Juniata is to have the pre-ministerial students of all faiths enjoy fellowship and work together.

The Ministerium engages in many activities. One of the highlights of the year was the field trip to New York City where famous churches and pastors as well as other places of interest, were visited. The future ministers held monthly meetings, at which time various speakers and guests were entertained. An outing, attended by members and friends, was held in the spring. The Ministerium takes an active part in campus affairs and, each year, places contending teams in the intramural sports program. A banquet, given by President Ellis, climaxed this eventful year for the group.

VOLUNTEERS

Continuing with the motto "To Know Christ and to Make Him Known," the Student Volunteers organization has carried out a program of interesting students in the study of foreign and home missions, and participation in a deputation program.

This group met weekly for periods of group worship, singing and Bible study. College students assumed the roles of religious leadership in the Volunteers. Various Juniata students spoke before the group during the course of the year. Volunteers is a non-sectarian organization, and its membership is open to any Juniata student.

Y. W. C. A.

The YWCA includes a great percentage of the girls on campus, in addition to resident students. Their three-fold aim is the development of a perfect body, a keen mind, and a Christ-like spirit.

With these aims in mind the group sponsored a Christmas party for underprivileged children. Students were invited to attend the Sunday evening seminars and discuss the problems facing today's Christians. Heart sister week, clothing drives and the publishing of a student directory have been other projects of the YWCA this year.

Faculty advisers were Mrs. Calvert Ellis, Mrs. Morley Mays, Mrs. John Middlekauf, and Mrs. Kenneth Crosby.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

The A Cappella Choir inspirationally sets its stage with the melody of "Fairest Lord Jesus" as it proceeds down the church aisle. Extending evidences of Juniata's Christian and musical training through the medium of song, the choir presents its signet "Cast Thy Burden."

The 35 selected voices blend in a program of some of the best choral literature written. The choir then sings its benediction, "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," over the bowed heads of its audience.

Built around a nucleus of 22 former members, it is composed of 14 seniors, 11 juniors, 6 sophomores, and 3 freshmen. This year the choir made its bi-annual eastern trip between semesters. They visited 12 churches, made a broadcast and two transcriptions for broadcasting.

A more secular program was given in the five high school appearances. At all these places, from New Jersey to Huntingdon, the choir was very warmly received. They will never forget such places as Coventry, Carney's Point, York, and Mifflintown. No matter in what locality, however, members look forward to the traditional "day off" from concerts which was in Philadelphia this year.

Week-end itineraries to Hagerstown, Chambersburg, Waynesboro, Altoona, and other surrounding towns are also high spots of the year's activities. The annual home concert, given in Oller Hall, was one of the best in Juniata's history according to Prof. Rowland.

Another home appearance was the 30th consecutive Mother's Day concert directed by the Prof. whose untiring leadership had contributed to a large part of the choir's success. This concert was given in the St. James Lutheran Church in Huntingdon. The oratorio "Saint Paul" was rendered at commencement by the A Cappella and Chapel Choirs plus campus singers and alumni.

FOOTBALL

Head Coach

Beginning his third year as head mentor, Bill Smaltz was fortunate in having practically the same team that he had started with in the fall of 1947. In the 1948 season his team had been considered the finest ever produced at the college by virtue of their four won, two lost, one tied record. This year saw the former Penn State star and his assistants coach the Indians to their finest record in history and become regarded as one of the strongest small colleges in the East.

Coaching the blocking backs and handling the phone from the press box to the bench were the duties of former Pitt quarterback Dr. Arnold Greene, Huntingdon dentist and head coach of basketball.

3rd row: Sikes, Hagmaier, Stever, Wagoner, Mulligan, LeFevre, Stroup, Reese, Waryck, Loschiavo, Dobal, Segalovich, Muchoney, Brumbaugh.

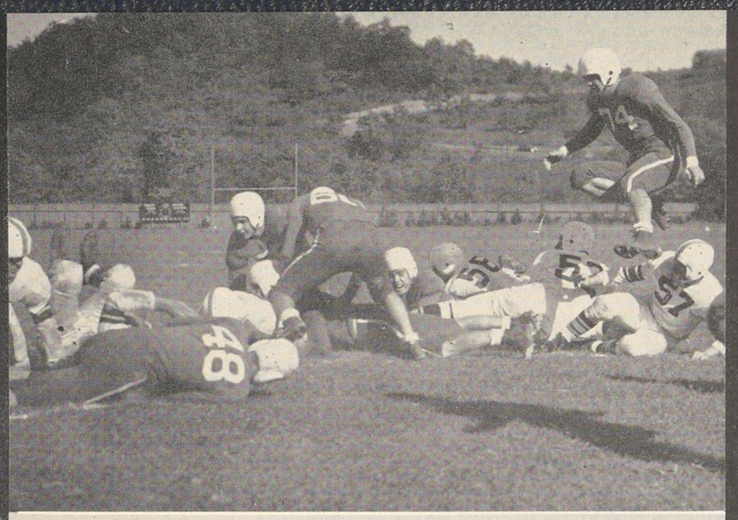
Fighting their way to a 21–18 win over Westminster College, the 1949 football Indians served notice on all future opponents that they were a team to be reckoned with.

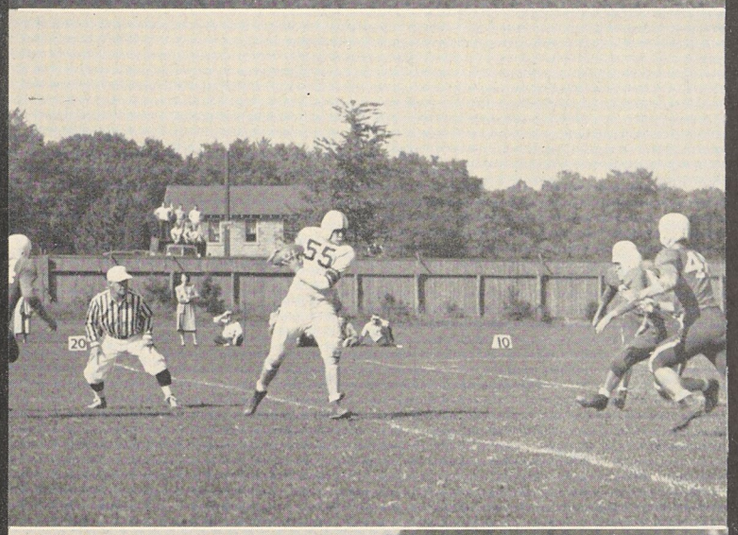
In a free-scoring game marked by the display of offensive power of tailback Mike Dzvonar and fullback Mike Mervis, the Indians pushed Westminster all over the field until in the final quarter the two-platoon system of the Titans enabled them to push over two touchdowns. The sure place-kicking of "Meteor" Mike provided the three-point margin of victory.

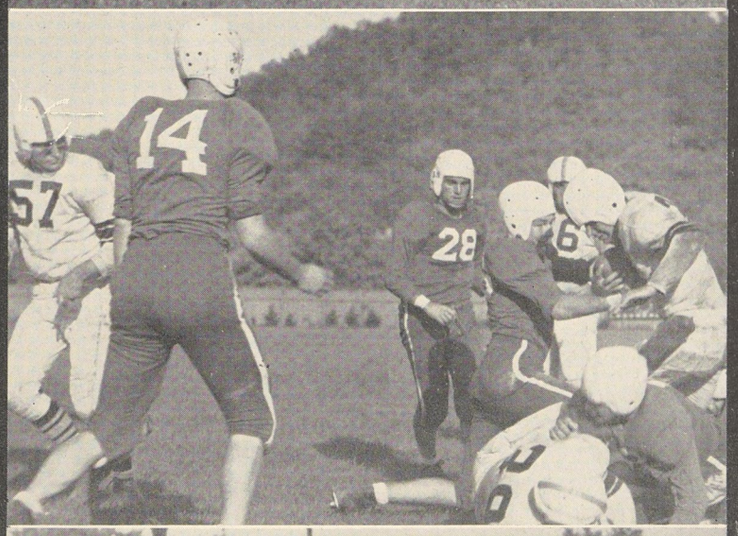
Meeting the Iroquois of Hartwick College away, the Indians went all out to gain their second victory by the lopsided score of 26–6. Playing inspired ball, they flattened the Iroquois, holding them to a mere 58 yards gained rushing while rolling up the terrific total of 388 yards for themselves. Again Mike Dzvonar was outstanding, scoring twice himself and passing to end George Smith for a third, in addition to kicking the two extra points.

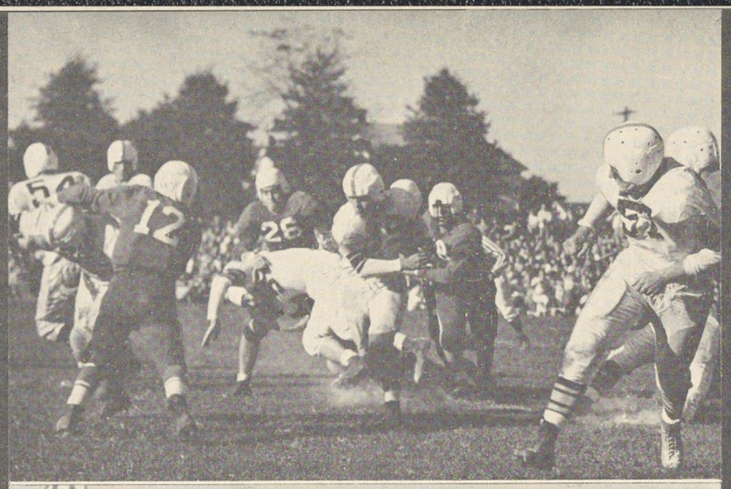
Feeling their way cautiously against a tricky team from Susquehanna University, the Juniata Indians continued their all-winning ways by defeating the Crusaders 21–13 by virtue of the strong offense led by "Meteor" Mike Dzvonar, who scored every point. With this scoring spree, Dzvonar pulled himself up to second place in the race for leading scorer in the state. Brilliant coaching was evident in this game as the Indians met the wide-open offense of the Crusaders with a special defense that prevented them from scoring at will. Julius "Squeeze" Long was a big factor in the success of this defense.

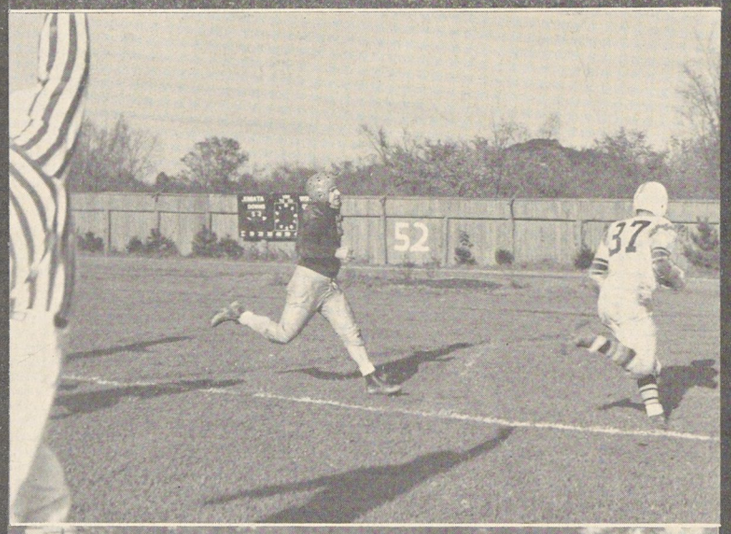
Juniata ran afoul of the breaks of the game when underdog Dickinson College pulled the upset of the season by defeating the Indians on their home field, 9–7. Entering the game with two breaks already to their disadvantage—the absence of first-stringers Dave Croft and Mike Mervis—the Indians were weakened immeasurably by their star tailback, Mike Dzvonar, being ejected from the game after a scuffle with a Red Devil. In confusion after this stunning development, the Indians were forced back to their goal

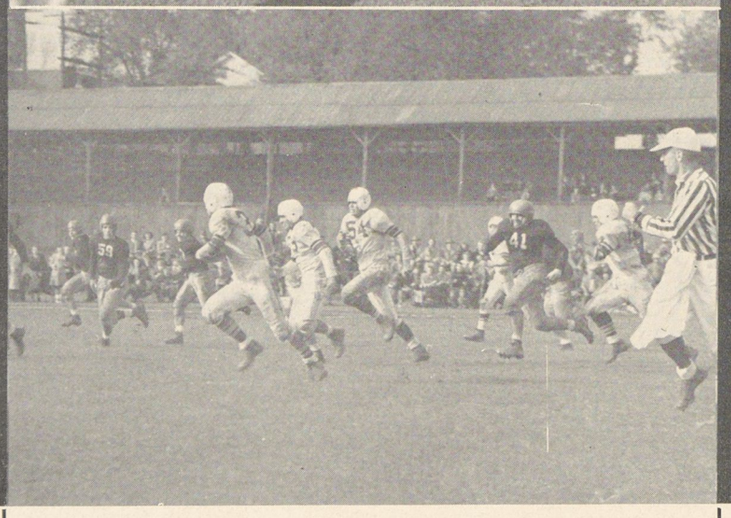












SEASON'S RESULTS

Oct. 8—Hartwick at Oneonta, N. Y.	26	6
Oct. 15—Susquehanna at Huntingdon (Homecoming Day)	21	13
Oct. 22—Dickinson at Huntingdon	7	9
Oct. 29—Haverford at Haverford	33	20
Nov. 5—Grove City at Huntingdon (Parent's Day)	6	13
Nov. 11—Moravian at Bethlehem	27	7

line where a blocked kick for a safety gave the Red Devils the margin of victory. "Squeeze" Long saved Juniata from a white-washing by taking a kickoff 82 yards for a touchdown on a brilliant sideline-hugging run earlier in the game. Dzvonar's kick was good, his ninth in eleven tries.

It was a grim band of Indians that journeyed to Haverford, Pa., to meet the Fords of Haverford College. Bitter over their upset by Dickinson the previous Saturday, they proved it was a fluke victory by overpowering Haverford 33–20. Scoring every time they gained possession of the ball, the Indians sent Mike Dzvonar to the head of the state scoring parade by his personal total of 21 points for the game. Fullback Joe Dobal and wingback Phil Chabody each contributed six points to the grand total with Chabody's coming on a pass from Dzvonar. Juniata hopes suffered a setback in this game when "Meteor" Mike was carried off the field with an injured knee.

Entering one of the crucial games of the season without their main offensive punch, Dzvonar, the Indians were forced to accept a disappointing loss by the score of 13–6 from the Grovers of Grove City College. With Dzvonar in for only a few plays, the balance of the offensive load lay on the shoulders of sophomore Don Howett, who threw a pass to Chabody in the end zone to rescue Juniata from the humiliation of a 13–0 score. Hard as the loss was to take, some measure of pride could be taken in the defense that held the powerful Grove City offense to a seven-point margin of victory.

A great Juniata football team entered Bethlehem's Liberty stadium to meet the Greyhounds of Moravian College for the last game of the season. Four quarters of amazing, action-packed football later, they emerged as the greatest team ever produced in 27 years of football on the Hill. Juniata had walloped Moravian 27–7, and the greatest individual story in Juniata football history had been told. "Meteor" Mike Dzvonar had scored three touchdowns himself, passed to "Squeeze" Long for another and had kicked three extra points. And all this with an injured knee! Mike now was leading the state with 93 points (later Gabriel of Lehigh topped him with 96 and two extra games) and had attracted the notice that was to win him state- and nation-wide recognition.

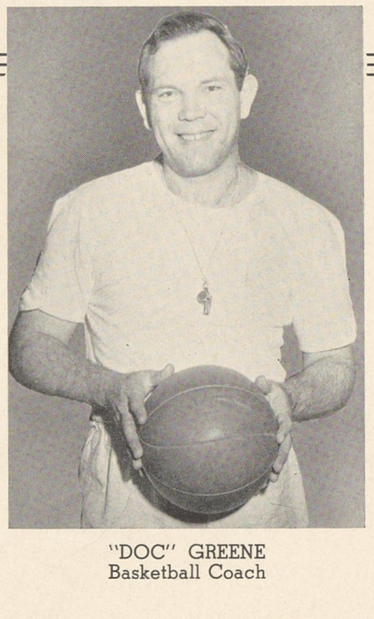
The fighting spirit of this great team was never so ably demonstrated as in this game. With never a thought of a possible defeat, they overcame the disadvantage of an early score by Moravian to rush back with four more. The injury jinx that had plagued them all season worked overtime in this game as Cecil Jackson, Mike Mervis and Coy Hicks were lost to the team.

In paying tribute to the coaching staff and the players who made this the greatest season, it must be acknowledged that they are virtually the same men who made last year's season the finest up till then. This has been the climax of three years of working to put Juniata on the football map, and the results show the worth of this endeavor.

BASKETBALL



"DOC" GREENE
Basketball Coach

Coached by Dr. Arnold Greene, who replaced P. M. Snider, the 1949–50 edition of the basketball Indians came out on top in only four of their 17 games. The season was almost a carbon copy of the two which preceded it. From the pages of the record books, the season should properly be called unsuccessful. But all success is not measured by statistics, and in terms of spirit and determination, the team was definitely on the up-and-up.

"Doc" Greene was handed a tough assignment in his freshman year as head mentor. Not only did he face the task of rebuilding a team around two returning members of the starting team, but also one of Juniata's toughest schedules in recent years. In spite of the odds against him, "Doc" succeeded in producing a team which refused to quit, even in the face of overwhelming odds.

The Indians began their season away from home, and were further handicapped by the injuries of star forward Holmes Ulsh, which forced him into limited service. After dropping a 42–38 contest to Lycoming in the initial encounter, the Braves returned home, only to meet with a similar fate at the hands of Bucknell in a 50–48 thriller. Hitting the road once again, the Braves were downed by a hot Elizabethtown, 67–53, in a game which saw Ulsh hit his true stride by garnering 20 points. Another senior, Johnny Stayer, also had 15 in this game. Winding up their pre-holiday activities in a blaze of glory, the locals recorded their first win of the season in their next outing as they upset a giant Allegheny five, 54–48, with Ulsh and Stan Welsh leading the way.

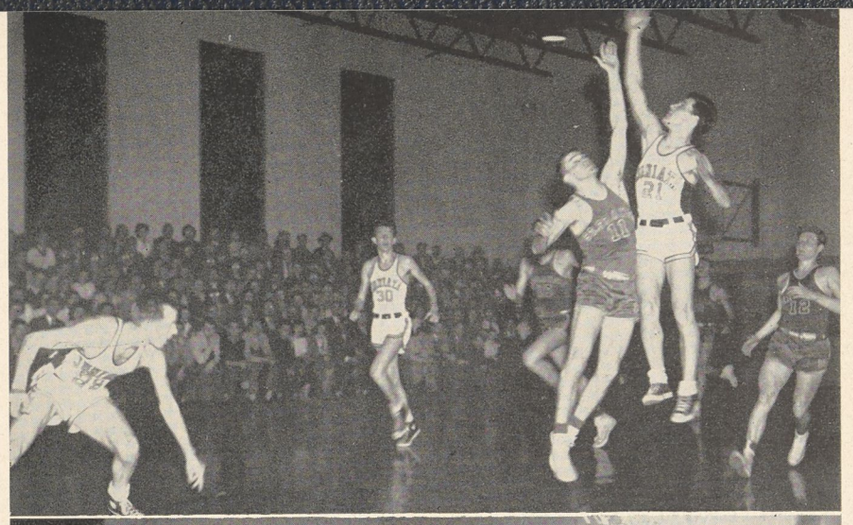
Optimism ran high when the team returned from their two-week lay off and resumed their winning ways in defeating Susquehanna, 59–42. Coach Greene's newly developed HAZ defense got its first test in this game, and the Indians succeeded in holding the Crusaders to two field goals in the first half. The reserves saw plenty of action from that point on.

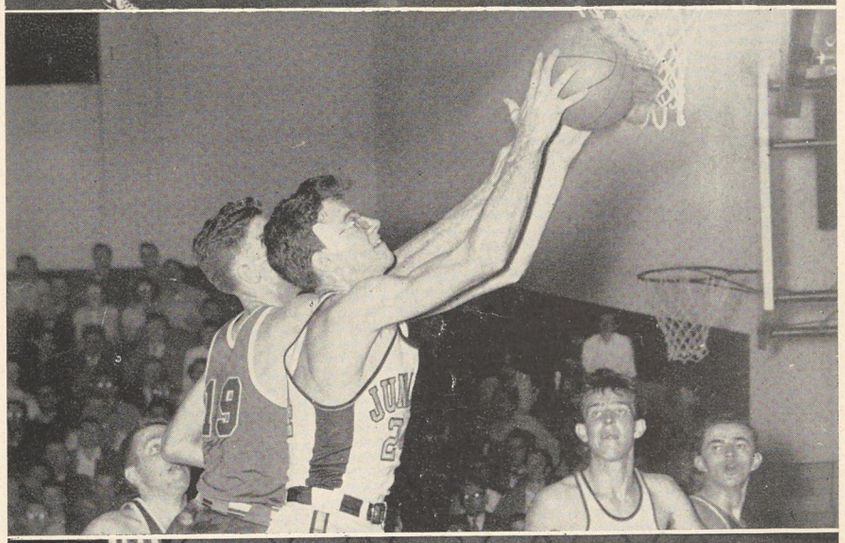
Geneva's Covies trounced the Indians in their attempt to even their seasonal record, 69–43, in a foul studded contest. One week later, Susquehanna came to Huntingdon for a return engagement, and for the second time were turned back. This time it was by a score of 56–35 as the Warriors took their third game of the season.

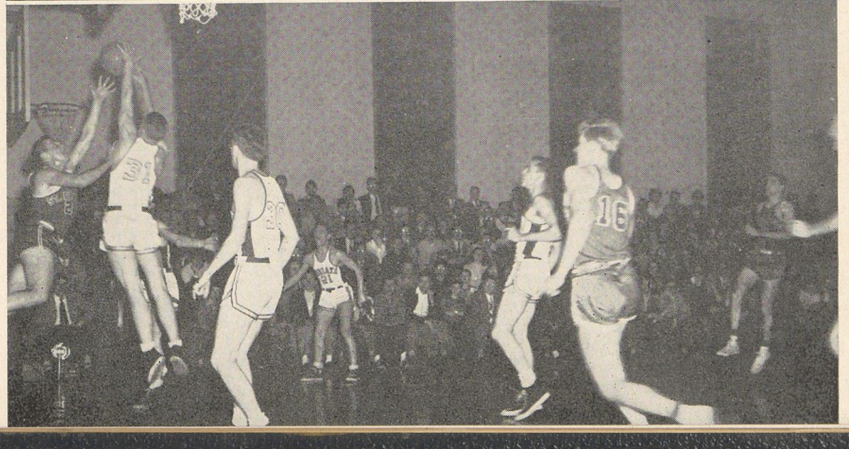
After leading for most of the game, the boys lost a tough one to Dickinson in their next meeting as the Red Devils managed a last minute uprising to win. Ulsh salvaged some glory for the home team as he dumped 36 points in a losing cause. He followed this up with a 24 point performance against Elizabethtown the following week as the Redmen gained revenge for a defeat earlier in the season. As it turned out, this was to be the last victory of the year. St. Francis started them on their downward trail in their next time out, as they scored with ease to win 76–49.

The following week saw the boys leave College Hill on an extended road trip; one which turned out to be most disastrous. Annville was the first stop on the statewide jaunt, and the Dutchmen were anything but hospitable in defeating the locals by 64–51. But this was a close one compared to the 92–52 lacing they took from a powerful Westminster five just two nights later. Swinging east, the Juniata five began to show the effects of their extended travel. In losing to Drexel Tech, 64–37, they were anything but themselves, and were no better as they completed their tour in an 83–68 loss to Ursinus.

Returning home once again, the Braves put up a stiff fight before bowing to Lebanon Valley, 86–74. Ulsh duplicated his feat against Dickinson earlier in the season as he scored 36 points in the LV game. Ray Korody also hit for double figures in this contest. In their final road engagement, the Warriors were downed by Franklin and Marshall, 52–41, and closed their season by dropping a 66–64 heartbreaker to a highly favored Albright quintette. Each of the boys who sang his "swan-song" in this game gave a good account of himself. Holmes Ulsh closed his brilliant career with 26 points, Stan Welsh was equally impressive in scoring 19, and Johnny Stayer and Ken Wenger added more wood to the fire with 18 between them.







BASEBALL

Coach

Coach William R. Smaltz, known to all as "Bill," took a firm grip on the tiller during the 1949 voyage of Juniata's ship of baseball, and emerged victorious in seven battles and was sunk six times. This was "Bill's" second season as baseball monitor and J.C.'s 46th season.

Returning for the 1950 campaigns were five seniors: Mike Dzvonar, Harry Frye, "Squeeze" Long, Fred Phenicie, and Ken Wenger.

Dzvonar, serving as J.C.'s centerfielder, proved to be an asset in both the hitting and fielding departments. Only seven men appeared in all thirteen games and Mike was one of them because of his adeptness for socking the long ball, his power-packed arms and legs, and his all-round playing abilities. Mike's slugging netted 14 runs and tied him in the RBI column with 13.

Once fearing that he wouldn't capture a starting position with the squad, Harry Frye stepped in one day as a pinch hitter and won an outfield post in right. Harry began immediately to show Coach Smaltz that he was worthy of holding down the garden spot by belting a neat .281 and fielding 1.000.

Frye's eleven games were more than enough to merit him a golden J and admiration from his teammates as he continued through the season with a bad ankle that frequently needed wrapping. Despite this handicap, Delmont, Pa.'s native son banged out a homer, one triple, and seven well-timed singles that resulted in four runs and three RBI's.

Proud indeed was Julius "Squeeze" Long when he wound up the 1949 season with a .321 batting average, second highest in the outfit. Long, once scouted by the Pittsburgh Pirates, punched one over the wall and two deep drives for doubles, plus thirteen singles which gained him a tie for first place for the number of hits.

"Squeeze" was transferred early in the campaign from left field to third base to fill a spot vacated by Dick Young, and ended with an .853 FA. He accepted 48 chances at the hot corner and left field, 43 of which were faultless.

One of the profound reasons why any coach would be proud to have Long on his roster was the fact that he could fill in any of the nine spots, even pitch or catch should the occasion arise.

Another of the parting five is Lewistown's Fred Phenicie, whose trade is pitching. It wasn't until midseason that Fred drew a starting assignment from Coach Smaltz, but what a game it turned out to be. For six innings Fred toiled under the pressure of a no-hit, no-run ball game until a poke-bunt found an opening between the mound and first base. Fred went on to win the game 4–3 when "Squeeze" Long scored on an error in the final frame.

Donning a J. C. uniform as a rookie last spring, Ken Wenger became the backbone of Smaltz's pitching staff. Ken worked 56 innings to gain the triumph over four hapless foes. The Hershey kid found the range once with his bat as he drilled a four-bagger, and, although only a .227 batter, Wenger pushed two doubles out of the reach of enemy fielders and two singles.

Now that the spikes, sliding pads, and the rest of the uniforms are packed away, there will be five rookies next season who will be humbly carrying five numbers with past exploits that will be difficult to equal by those wide-eyed men of '54.

TRACK

Track at Juniata in 1949 was not too successful, as the Indians were able to record only one win. The entire season was a case of having an ample number of first places, but not enough seconds and thirds backing them up to provide the necessary margin for victory. However, individual records were numerous and tend to remove some of the gloom of the won-lost column.

The Warriors' lone victory came at the expense of Geneva, while they lost in dual meets to Dickinson and Albright, despite the fact that they scored eight of a possible 14 first places. Bucknell won the triangular match at Lewisburg, with Gettysburg second and Juniata third. In addition, the Indians competed in the Penn Relays and the Middle Atlantic Track and Field Championships.

Joe Beyer was the individual standout as he set two new Juniata College records. Against Dickinson, Beyer turned in a mark of 10:04.6 in the two-mile event, good enough to clip the old record set by Al Carino in 1940. Beyer's second record-breaking performance came in the triangular meet with Bucknell and Gettysburg. Here he set a new standard in the mile event at 4:38.6, breaking the old mark of 4:41.5 set by J. Meyers in 1934.

In addition to Beyer, Bill Murray and Coy Hicks also gained individual honors last spring. Murray set a new 880-yard mark at 2:00.3 in the Middle Atlantics. This was good enough to top both his own record of 2:00.6, also set this spring, and the one set by George Weber in 1940.

The versatile Hicks tied the 43-year-old 100-dash mark held by Dr. N. J. Brumbaugh when he turned in a similar time against Geneva. Later in the day, Hicks was injured in attempting to break the existing pole-vault record.

The turnout and calibre of freshman members of the team was heartening to Coach Snider. If these boys can continue to show form this season and bring home the necessary seconds and thirds, 1950 will be quite a different story from 1949.

GOLF

The 1949 golf season opened with four regulars reporting from the undefeated team of 1948 to Coach Dr. Edgar Kiracofe. Captain-elect John Burych had as veteran golfers Ray Korody, Bob Rhodes and Orville Dore. Bolstering the squad were newcomers Art Allen and Frank Stasenko. Dore and Burych were entering the last season of play for the Indians.

Commencing the season at the Huntingdon Country Club, the Indian putters squeaked to a 5–4 win over the Panthers of the University of Pittsburgh. Korody, Burych and Rhodes won their matches; Allen and Dore halved and Stasenko dropped his.

The Indians added numbers 10 and 11 to their win streak by dealing Dickinson two successive defeats within four days. Playing at Carlisle, the Kiracofemen toppled the Red Devils $6\frac{1}{2}$–$2\frac{1}{2}$. In a return match at the local country club, Dickinson was handed a 9–0 whitewash.

Rolling along in high gear, the Indian golfers defeated Bucknell 6–3 for victory number 12 and proved that the number 13 had no terrors for them, as they overwhelmed Albright 8–1.

Ray Korody was the medalist in a weekend series of matches that extended the victory string to 15. Downing Franklin and Marshall 6–3 on Saturday, the Indians took a return match from Bucknell on Monday by the score of $8\frac{1}{2}$–$\frac{1}{2}$.

Hopes for an undefeated season were shattered rudely as Johns Hopkins administered a $5\frac{1}{2}$–$3\frac{1}{2}$ defeat to the charges of Coach Kiracofe.

Rebounding to cop the Western Maryland Invitation tour, the Indians proved they were champions as they turned in a total of 594 strokes on the rugged course to nose out their nearest competitor, Lehigh University, with 595.

Representing Juniata in this tournament was a four-man team consisting of Korody, Allen, Rhodes and Burych.

Summarizing the achievements of the golf squad, with one defeat in two years of play, it can be seen that they have a strong claim to recognition as one of the finest teams ever to represent Juniata College in intercollegiate competition.

Sweethearts

As a fund-raiser for the Juniata World Service Fund, Victor Herbert's musical comedy "Sweethearts" was presented by a cast of more than 40 Juniatians on March 18 and 19, 1949. Melodically the show tells of a 15th-century baby princess who, during a war, mysteriously ends up among the bevy of daughters of Dame Paula, the owner of the White Goose Laundry. Later, when she has grown into a beauteous maiden, court intrigue in her native land makes it imperative that the proper female heir to the throne be found. It is the search for her, plus the misadventures of the swains who seek her hand in marriage, that gave Oller Hall audiences one of the finest musical gems yet offered.

Mountain Day

Up, up, up and away to Paradise Furnace. With a stowing away of books and a quick change to hiking togs, it was long-awaited Mountain Day.

For two hours students gaily hiked among the lush autumn splendor of the thousand hills while local forestry officials pointed out interesting natural features. Then a much-needed picnic lunch was served at the picnic grounds. Games of touch football, volleyball, and badminton were other planned activities. Wading, though unplanned, was also enjoyed by many.

New and old students alike experienced not only complete relaxation in natural surroundings but also a closer acquaintance with the faculty on one of Juniata's "family days."

Next year's destination is Spruce Creek.

Homecoming Queen

The crisp breezes of autumn ushered in a glorious season of classes, ever-popular football and the coronation of Miss Homecoming III. An electoral committee appointed by The Juniatian began searching for the candidate possessing the elusive qualities typical of an American college girl. With due consideration to personality, attractiveness and participation in extra-curricular activities, the names of eight sophomore, junior and senior girls were placed on the ballot for student vote.

When the results of a record vote were tallied, Gladys Gehman, secretary of the class of '51, was officially declared Miss Homecoming III. A resident of Windber, Pa., the new queen received official recognition between the halves of the Juniata–Susquehanna football game and presided over all the festivities of the day. Beginning her reign at the Senate breakfast held in her honor at the Penn Koffee Shop, Miss Homecoming was also the special guest of the J Club at a formal dance climaxing the day's activities. Beneath a canopy of blue and gold, Queen Gladys was again welcomed into the royal order of Homecoming celebrations. In appreciation of the spirit which she represented, Miss Homecoming was presented with several gifts by the J Club.

As the third Homecoming celebration became only a memory, guests, faculty and students felt that they had taken part in another popular J. C. tradition that should be continued for many more years.

Berkeley Square

"BERKELEY SQUARE," by John Balderston, was the fantasy-drama presented by The Masque, Juniata's dramatic organization, for its fall production. Staged by Miss Esther M. Doyle, it was done as an arena production on the Oller Hall stage.

The story concerns an American in London, Peter Standish, who, dissatisfied with the present, longs for the life of the past. By some quirk of the playwright's imagination, his wish is fulfilled. He exchanges places with one of his ancestors and thus is transported back to 18th-century England. After a short while, Peter comes to the realization that this era is not all that he had dreamed it to be, and becomes thoroughly disgusted with the general run of the people. In the meantime, he has fallen in love with Helen Pettigrew, a sweet, genteel girl who is extremely understanding of his predicament. Although hesitant about returning to the present because of Helen, he is finally persuaded that it would be the wisest thing to do.

Don Norris, vice president of The Masque, assumed the leading role of the sensitive hero in a highly capable manner. Vera Compton, a Masquer, skillfully handled the ingenue lead. Newcomers Janet Boland, a transfer student, and freshmen Phyllis Link and Charles Barklow had other leading roles and received many plaudits for the excellence of their portrayals. Margaret Roop and Thurman Grossnickle put in their usual good work, and minor roles were ably played by Gene Roddy, Elma Stine, Peter Mayer, Betty Longwell, Ruth Reid, Glenn Felix, Bob Champion, and Corena Sollenberger.

All Class Night

"Class of '53 First Frosh to Produce Winning Skit" cheered the surprise Juniatian headline of the year in the issue following the All Class Night presentation on December 10. Said the student newspaper, "The winning playlet mixed fact and fiction, confused the time scale with the anachronism of Chris Columbus and N. J. Brumbaugh working together, and came up with a satire on current faculty which stole the collective hearts of the judges, most of whom were alumni."

"Alfarata's Wigwam," the winning freshman presentation, was written by Bob Bailey, Sue Bieber, Janice Carper, Anne Mullin and Joanne Pentz in cooperation with Philip Norris, class chairman for the event.

A modern musical comedy on the theme of young love was staged by the sophomore class. Entitled "Mr. Music's Million," the book and lyrics were written by Jim Streiner and the original music was composed by Dave Lewis, a former Juniatian.

"Most unusual ideas on education" were expressed in the junior offering, according to one of the judges. Poetically titled "Michael McGee Takes His BA Degree," the comedy with a moral was written by Robert Elder.

The senior try for the cup, "Thy Light Is Come," was prepared mostly by Mary Crouthamel and Ernie Rossi. A Christmas pageant, it included some original organ music as transitions between works by the masters.

Guiding the all-student talent night which offered 22-minute shows by each of the four classes was William Bateson. Marvin Blaylock assisted him to produce what Miss Edith L. Spencer, an adviser, termed "one of the best-prepared All Class Nights I have ever seen."

May Day

Heralding the coming of spring to the college campus is the traditional May Day celebration. Fantasy reigned supreme as the beautiful Queen of the May and her Prince Charming presided over an outdoor pageant presented before the student body and their guests. The time spent in planning and rehearsing the event somehow seemed insignificant as the recessional of royalty and cavorting sunbeams, fairies and elves passed by, mid applause and admiration.

The days before the celebration were shrouded in mystery as the student body went to the polls to select the queen, the prince consort, maid of honor and attendants. Busy May Day committees made feverish plans and went to great ends keeping the court and the events a secret until the time was ripe at the May Day breakfast. From her cauldron of secrets, an old witch drew the name of the former Homecoming queen, Mary Lou Cannon, as Queen of the May. Her maid of honor was Jean Brown. Deeper in the magic kettle the names of the attendants appeared: seniors Francis Mitchell and Thelma Quant; juniors Ilene Altemus and Gladys Mohr; sophomores Erla Mae Weist and Gladys Gehman; freshmen Mary Lou McKee and Lois Miller. Finally in a blue cloud of smoke, the prince consort, Dick Stever, appeared before the queen and court.

This was only the beginning of a series of events that changed Juniata's campus into a Hans Christian Andersen dream world. His delightful story "Thumbelisa" was adapted as the May Day pageant. Managed by Mrs. Virginia Shuey, instructor in physical education, this world of make-believe began to take form.

George Parsons, a Juniata student, got his crew of workers together and the basement of Oller Hall resounded with the noise of hammering and building scenery. The story of tiny Thumbelisa, a princess with too many suitors, was well under way.

On May 14, around two o'clock, Sherwood Forest was the scene of unusual activity. Festive surroundings for the climax to weeks of work was at hand. Before the wondering eyes of the college family, sunbeams danced among the flowers which spread their petals in the path of a prince, while a swallow pined for his unrequited love.

The assembled group saw pint-sized Thumbelisa ("Jackie" Felton) spring magically from a flower to brighten the life of a lonely old woman. For a while she lived happily, dancing in the sunshine among the flowers until she was carried off by a group of curious beetles. Thinking her a strange creature, they leave her to the mercies of a toad-mother who believes Thumbelisa to be an ideal mate for her ugly son. Escaping from the toads, Thumbelisa is entertained by a school of fish and a brilliantly colored butterfly. Finally a huge ground mole makes her the object of his attentions and carries her away to be his wife. The snowflakes come and drive the flowers away, and the tiny princess is very miserable. Her only joy is a fallen swallow which she befriends and rescues from the blizzard. Because of her kindness, the swallow is magically transformed into a handsome prince who carries off the princess, and they live happily ever after. The queen, maid of honor, prince consort and attendants pass slowly along the lawn, up Sherwood drive and out of sight.

Thus it was that the twenty-fifth consecutive May Day on Juniata's campus came to a close. Back in 1917, Mrs. Martha Shontz initiated the first May Day and it has now become a well-loved Juniata tradition.
